Next Up: Value Meal at the Olive Garden

We recently had a meeting of the SocComm. At that meeting we planned out the rest of the season. There was a lot of interest in our two restaurant dining events, the “value” meal and our “upscale” evening. So, with that in mind we are planning our low-cost function at the Olive Garden in Greenacres.

This will be on Wednesday evening, February 22nd at 6:30 PM. We will do their “Supremo Dinner” which is priced out at $25.00 including food, tax, service, and two bucks for the SocComm treasury.

We are thinking about having the upscale restaurant event back at Café Boulud. A number of people said that we went there after the snowbirds left for the season and they felt left out. So... Save the date of May 11, 2012 for this gala dining experience.

While, not strictly speaking a SocComm event, Marti Weiss is once again running, instructor led, water aerobics. This has become a very popular program. It proves that if you give your community something it wants the people will come. Since water aerobics is priced by both subscription and by single lesson, it is never too late to come out and give it a try.

Signup sheets are up on the bulletin board for the ever popular day at the Hard Rock Casino.

2012 Dinner Dance a Hit

On February first the SocComm held its fourth annual Dinner Dance. Attendance was down a bit from past years because a number of our friends and neighbors fell ill just before the event. I am happy to report that all of the people who could not make the party are feeling much better. That being said the event turned out to be the best one yet. This was mainly due to the fact that there was more dancing this time.

Our keyboardist, Martha Brown, kept the tunes flowing all night. Special mention should be made of Carl Willner and Joe Hechler. Both men went out of their way to dance with the single women who attended. Thanks guys.

The food provided by Atlantis was once again outstanding. The crab cakes deserve a “shout-out” all by themselves. I had the beef, which was excellent, and others around my table enjoyed the fish and chicken. I heard no complaints.

One of the attendees came up to me at the end of the evening and said that the dance this year was much better than she had expected. This raises a good point. In planning for next season I would like some suggestions of how we can express the good time we had to others who are reluctant to come.

We need some of the new owners and renters to join in on this our signature event. While I think that the event is just about perfect the way it is, the SocComm is always open to new ideas to make the Dinner Dance even better.

Get Ready to Feast

7:00 PM. This is the season bookend to close what the Meet ‘n Greet began. For those of us who are here the year around, we will be planning another round of activities for the summer here in south Florida.

Bob for the Board of Directors

If you will forgive me, here is a short political message in this august publication. I am running for the Patrician Board of Directors. Those of you who know me, recognize that I have your interest at heart. If elected, I will give voice to your ideas at Board meetings. This means that you will have a way to get a topic of interest to you presented for discussion, as an item of New Business. Should the discussion result in a motion being called for, I cannot promise that it will always carry, but you will always have a voice on the Board.
